

A “Watch List” on Ohio Community Schools

The following schools will meet the state’s criteria for mandatory, permanent closure if they are rated in “Academic Emergency” (for elementary and high schools) and (for middle schools) if they fail to show at least one year of added progress in either math or reading according to the state’s “Value Added” measure. Performance data for the 2009-2010 school year will be released in August.
